INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors
The Cleveland Animal Protective League
Cleveland, Ohio

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of The Cleveland Animal Protective League, which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Cleveland Animal Protective League as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of The Cleveland Animal Protective League and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about The Cleveland Animal Protective League's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of The Cleveland Animal Protective League's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about The Cleveland Animal Protective League's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2024 AND 2023

1. ORGANIZATION

Incorporated in 1913, the Cleveland Animal Protective League (APL) is a private, 501(c)(3), nonprofit humane society located in Cleveland, Ohio. Its mission is to foster compassion and end animal suffering. The Cleveland APL offers shelter to homeless pets, works to prevent animal homelessness and reduce the number of animals coming into shelters, promotes compassionate and responsible pet guardianship, enforces local and state animal protection laws in Cuyahoga County, assists prosecutors with the prosecution of those charged with animal cruelty, rescues abused and neglected animals, offers support that preserves the human-animal bond, and strives to elevate the status of companion animals in our society.

The Cleveland APL is not governed by and does not receive regular operating support from national animal welfare organizations. The APL also does not receive government funding in support of its operations, so it relies on the generosity of private donors and fees for service to make this work possible. Each year, thousands of animals receive the food, shelter, and medical care they so desperately need. For some, it is the only human kindness they have known. In 2024, the Cleveland APL helped more than 21,000 animals through an array of progressive programs.

The extraordinary evolution and growth of the Cleveland APL's programs and services and the needs of the animals finally surpassed what the facility was designed to support. In response, the shelter was expanded and renovated to support best practices in animal sheltering, support efforts to preserve the human-animal bond and keep pets with the people who love them, and meet the demands of today's lifesaving work. Construction was mostly completed by the end of March 2022, but due to supply chain issues, a few specific areas of the project were not finished until December 2023.

Examples of the improvements made include:

- (1) transitioning the animal admitting area into an Animal Resource Center, where the Cleveland APL can support pet parents in making the best possible decisions for their animals and better address the pressing needs of pet families living in underserved areas of Cleveland.
- (2) redesigning animal housing areas and cages to provide a more enriched and less stressful environment for animals that have longer stays in our care while they undergo treatment.
- (3) creating segregated spaces where animals with varied medical or behavioral needs can be safely and effectively treated for their specific concerns.
- (4) adding flexible space for animal housing to support large animal cruelty case impounds or enhance our ability to provide emergency or disaster response.
- (5) expanding and redesigning the veterinary clinic to support the increasingly advanced veterinary care required for our shelter animals, while also offering access to affordable veterinary care for Cleveland pet owners for whom the cost of veterinary care has been a barrier.

Today, the Cleveland APL is more than a shelter; it's a progressive animal resource center that can meet the critical and diverse needs of animal victims of abuse or neglect, animals surrendered by their owners or Good Samaritans, animals requiring critical medical care and rehabilitation, animals transferred from overcrowded shelters or areas impacted by disaster, and beloved pets living in underserved neighborhoods throughout Cleveland — all of whom deserve compassion, care, and a second chance.

The Cleveland APL has achieved 100% placement of healthy, friendly, treatable animals by providing veterinary care, often extensive, to animals with humanely and safely treatable illnesses and injuries and by working with animals that have modifiable behavioral issues. The Cleveland APL does not turn companion animals in need away due to their age, health, or temperament. There is no limit to the amount of time a homeless animal may stay at the Cleveland APL. Healthy, friendly, treatable animals remain in the APL's care until they find their new home. Through the hard work and commitment of our team, the APL is recognized as a progressive leader in animal welfare.

Animal Sheltering & Care: The APL operates a 40,000-square-foot animal shelter and resource center in Cleveland. In 2024, the APL brought in 6,952 animals that were surrendered by their owners, victims of abuse or neglect and impounded by our humane agents, transferred in from overcrowded shelters, brought in to assist with emergency situations in other areas, or stray cats found by Good Samaritans. Once at the APL, these animals receive the care and treatment they need until they can be placed for adoption. When the shelter is full or when animals have special needs that can be better met in a home setting, they are placed with temporary volunteer foster families until they are ready to return to the APL for adoption. By the end of 2024, we achieved an overall 92% save rate for animals through adoptions, reunification with owners, or transfer to other rescue groups or shelters for adoption.

Humane Investigations: The APL is the lead agency in Cuyahoga County for investigating animal cruelty, neglect, and abandonment. Under Ohio law, the Cleveland APL's Board of Directors is authorized to appoint humane society agents to enforce local and state animal protection laws; these appointments must be approved by the Cuyahoga County Probate Court. The APL does not receive public funding for this program; it is funded solely by donations. The APL's humane society agents also seek justice for animal victims by working with prosecutors to secure convictions for those charged with animal cruelty or neglect. Under Ohio law, humane agents are mandated reporters for child and elder abuse and neglect.

Shelter Veterinary Services: The APL's veterinary clinic provides spay/neuter, medical, and other surgical services for animals admitted to the shelter for rehoming. All cats, dogs, and rabbits are sterilized prior to adoption. Through donations to the Second Chance Program, animals surrendered to the APL with treatable injuries or illnesses receive the medical and/or surgical care needed for a happy, healthy life in a new home. Sometimes, this care is extensive, complex, and expensive.

Animal Welfare Clinic (AWC): The APL's AWC provides spay/neuter services for community cats through Trap-Neuter-Return (TNR) and sterilization services for adoptable animals from other shelters and rescue groups.

Community Outreach: Through Project CARE (Community Animal Retention Effort), the APL helps income-qualified pet owners in Cleveland access the care and resources they need and want for their pets. Examples include pet food, grooming, vaccinations, wellness care, and crisis boarding for owners facing housing insecurity or fleeing domestic violence.

Community Pet Clinic (CPC): The APL believes in preserving the human-animal bond and that pet owners should not be forced to consider giving up their pets because they cannot afford veterinary care. In 2022, the APL opened its Community Pet Clinic (CPC) to provide affordable veterinary care to pet owners who have been unable to afford care at private clinics or at all. The CPC currently serves pets owned by Cleveland and East Cleveland residents who are on financial assistance or demonstrate financial hardship. It also serves Cuyahoga County residents living in homeless shelters, domestic violence shelters, public housing, hotels, or motels, individuals referred by private veterinary clinics due to inability to pay, and those referred by social service agencies. Additionally, the CPC serves Cleveland APL adopters and residents living in the 44113 zip code.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of the Cleveland APL is presented to assist in understanding these financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Cleveland APL's management, which is responsible for their integrity and objectivity.

Basis of accounting

The Cleveland APL's financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and, accordingly, reflect all significant receivables, payables, and other liabilities.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Cleveland APL considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Concentrations of credit risk

The Cleveland APL maintains cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Cleveland APL has not experienced nor does it expect any losses in such accounts.

Receivables

Receivables consist of accounts receivable, grants receivable, estates receivable, employee retention tax credit receivable, and pledges receivable.

Effective January 1, 2023, The Cleveland APL adopted Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326) which significantly changed how entities measure credit losses for most financial assets and certain other instruments that aren’t measured at fair value through net income. The most significant change in this standard was a shift from the incurred loss model to the expected loss model. Under this standard, disclosures are required to provide users of the financial statements with useful information in analyzing an entity’s exposure to credit risk and the measurement of credit losses. Financial assets held by the Cleveland APL that are subject to the guidance in ASU No. 2016-13 were trade accounts receivable and grants receivable. The impact of the adoption was not considered material to the financial statements and primarily resulted in new and enhanced disclosures only.

Accounts receivable include receivables from veterinary services and pet insurance providers, contributions receivable at the end of the year, and grants receivable. The employee retention tax credit relates to refundable payroll taxes as described in Note 12. Management believes that the historical loss information it has compiled is a reasonable base on which to determine expected credit losses for receivables held at December 31, 2024 and 2023 because the composition of the receivables at those dates are consistent with that used in developing the historical credit-loss percentages (i.e., the similar risk characteristics of its customers and its lending practices have not changed significantly over time). Additionally, management has determined that the current and reasonable and supportable forecasted economic conditions are consistent with the economic conditions included in the historical information. As a result, the historical loss rates have not been adjusted for differences in current conditions or forecasted changes. Accordingly, management does not believe that an allowance for credit losses is necessary as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

The estates receivable fit the criteria for recognition in the financial statements and are estimated based on the circumstances and information available at the time of recognition. They are subject to adjustment if new information becomes available.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2024 AND 2023

Receivables (continued)

Pledges receivable consist of promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year at net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give expected to be collected in future years are initially recorded at fair value using present value techniques incorporating risk-adjusted discount rates designed to reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset. In subsequent years, amortization of the discounts is included in contribution revenue in the statements of activities. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, $10,592 and $17,432, respectively, of pledges receivable are expected to be collected currently. Allowance for uncollectible pledges is determined based on historical experience, an assessment of economic conditions, and a review of subsequent collections. Pledges are written off when deemed uncollectable. The allowance for uncollectable pledges totaled $6,228 and $7,000 within the pledges receivable for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Net assets

Net assets, revenues, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor or grantor imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net assets without donor restrictions – Net assets available for use in general operations and not subject to donor (or certain grantor) restrictions. The governing board has designated, from net assets without donor restrictions, net assets for a board-designated endowment.

Net assets with donor restrictions – Net assets subject to donor or grantor imposed restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time or other events specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature, where the donor stipulates that resources be maintained into perpetuity. Donor-imposed restrictions are released when a restriction expires, that is, when the stipulated time has elapsed, when the stipulated purpose for which the resource was restricted has been fulfilled, or both.

Revenue and revenue recognition

The Cleveland APL recognizes contributions when cash, securities, an unconditional promise to give, or a notification of a beneficial interest is received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been met.

The Cleveland APL recognizes program service income at the point in time in which the adoption or service takes place. There are no performance obligations to be satisfied over time.

Disaggregation of program service income

Animal adoptions – revenue from animal adoptions, holds, and surrender fees is recognized at the point in time in which the animal is adopted or surrendered.

Animal welfare clinic – revenue from spay/neuter services for community cats and for adoptable animals of other partner shelters is recognized when the procedure takes place. Contract receivables related to these services were $49,502 and $42,218 as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and are included with accounts receivable in the statements of financial position.

Community pet clinic – revenue from veterinary care to qualifying pet owners is recognized at the point in time in which the service is provided.

Investment income

Investments are reported at fair value. Net investment income is reported on the statements of activities and consists of interest and dividend income, realized and unrealized capital gains and losses, less external and direct internal investment expenses.

Funds held in trust by others

The Cleveland APL is a beneficiary of perpetual irrevocable trusts held and administered by independent trustees. Under the terms of the trusts, the Cleveland APL has the irrevocable right to receive annual distributions from the trusts. The fair value of the beneficial interest in a trust is recognized as an asset and as a contribution with donor restrictions at the date the trust is established. The Cleveland APL's estimate of fair value at each reporting date is based on fair value information about the trust's assets received from the trustees. Trust assets consist of, but are not limited to, cash and cash equivalents, corporate and government bonds, mutual funds, and equity securities. These assets are not subject to control or direction by the Cleveland APL. Distributions from the trusts and gains and losses are reflected as investment income and change in value of trusts in the statements of activities.

Donated services

Donated services are recognized as contributions, in accordance with the Contributions Received and Contributions Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, if the services (a) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or (b) require specialized skills, are performed by people with those skills, and would otherwise be purchased by the Cleveland APL.

Many volunteers provide services for the Cleveland APL that are not recognized as contributions in the financial statements as they do not fit the recognition criteria. However, the Cleveland APL relies heavily on the volunteers to assist with various programs. Unrecognized donated services revenue and expense is estimated to be $4,611,506 and $3,614,929 for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Functional allocation of expenses

The costs of program and supporting services activities have been detailed on both a functional and natural basis in the statements of functional expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

The financial statements report certain categories of expenses that are attributable to more than one program or supporting function. Therefore, all expenses require allocation on a reasonable basis that is consistently applied. The expenses that are allocated include utilities, depreciation, and insurance.

3. LIQUIDITY AND AVAILABILITY

Financial assets available for general expenditure, that is, without donor or other restrictions limiting their use, within one year of the balance sheet date, comprise the following:

	2024	2023
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 4,365,324	$ 5,171,153
Pledges receivable	10,592	17,432

	$ 6,224,862	$ 7,049,306

As part of the Cleveland APL's liquidity management, it has a policy to structure its financial assets to be available as its general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations come due. In addition, the Cleveland APL has a board-designated endowment of $19,780,615 and $17,289,952 as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Although the Cleveland APL does not intend to spend from its board-designated endowment other than amounts appropriated for general expenditure as part of its annual budget approval and appropriation process, amounts from its board-designated endowment could be made available if necessary.

The Cleveland APL's endowment funds consist of donor-restricted endowments and a board-designated endowment. Half of the income from donor-restricted endowments is required to remain in perpetuity. The remaining net income generated may be appropriated for expenditure at the discretion of the Board of the Cleveland APL. The board-designated endowment has a spending rate of up to 5%. As of December 31, 2024, the board has appropriated $740,157 for expenditure from the board-designated endowment that remains unspent.

4. CONTRIBUTED NONFINANCIAL ASSETS

For the years ended December 31, contributed nonfinancial assets recognized within the statements of activities as in-kind revenue included:

	2024	2023
Animal food	$ 150,036	$ 155,860

The Cleveland APL recognized contributed nonfinancial assets within revenue, including contributions of animal food, computer software, goods and materials, professional services, and animal pharmaceuticals and testing supplies. Unless otherwise noted, contributed nonfinancial assets did not have donor-imposed restrictions. It is the Cleveland APL's policy to accept and use all contributed nonfinancial assets at its discretion.

Contributions of animal food, goods and materials, and computer software were utilized within the general operations of the Cleveland APL. The values were provided by the donors and represent the fair value of the items donated.

Contributed animal pharmaceuticals and testing supplies include vaccines and testing kits that were utilized within the general operations of the Cleveland APL. The values were provided by the donors and represent the fair value of the items donated.

Contributed professional services include legal services, advertising, and design and construction services provided by qualified professionals. Contributed services are valued based on the current rates for similar services.

5. INCOME TAX STATUS

The Cleveland APL is organized under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code as a nonprofit, tax-exempt organization. In addition, the State of Ohio has also recognized the Cleveland APL's tax-exempt status.

The Cleveland APL has adopted guidance, as required by the Income Taxes Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification regarding accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. This guidance clarifies the accounting and recognition for income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the Cleveland APL's income tax returns. As of December 31, 2024, the Cleveland APL has no uncertain tax positions that qualify for either recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

6. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and include additions and improvements that extend the useful lives of the assets. Maintenance, repairs, and renewals, which neither materially add to the value of the property nor appreciably prolong its life, are charged to expense as incurred.

Depreciation is calculated on the double-declining balance and straight-line methods over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets as follows:

Building and improvements	10-40 years
Equipment and fixtures	5-10 years
Motor vehicles	5 years

Depreciation expense for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $761,723 and $761,722, respectively.

7. LINE OF CREDIT AGREEMENT

The Cleveland APL has a Securities Based Line of Credit Agreement with the financial institution that holds its investments. The Cleveland APL is able to borrow up to $9,200,000 on this line of credit. The line of credit has an interest rate of the 30-day Secured Overnight Financing Rate (SOFR) plus 1% (30-day SOFR was 4.45% and 5.34% as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively) and is collateralized by the investments held at the financial institution. The Cleveland APL did not draw any funds from the line of credit during 2024 and 2023.

8. RETIREMENT BENEFIT PLAN

Employees working at least twenty hours per week are eligible to participate in the Cleveland APL's 403(b) retirement benefit plan upon hire. Each participant may elect a salary reduction deferral from 1% to the maximum amount allowable by law. Participants who have completed at least one year of service are eligible to receive an employer matching contribution as determined by the Board of Directors. The current discretionary employer matching percentage is 50% of the first 6% of eligible earnings that the participant contributes to the plan through salary deferrals. The 403(b) plan includes a Safe Harbor design that allows for an additional 50% match up to the next 2% of eligible earnings. With a Safe Harbor design, highly compensated employees can contribute up to the maximum amounts each year. Employees are 100% vested in employer matching contributions upon completing twelve months of consecutive service or 1,000 hours of consecutive service. For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, contributions and plan expenses were $117,169 and $99,606, respectively.

10. ENDOWMENT FUNDS

The Cleveland APL's endowment consists of various investments established for a variety of purposes. Its endowment includes both donor-restricted funds and funds designated by the Board of Directors to function as endowments. As required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board of Directors to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

The Board of Directors of the Cleveland APL has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Cleveland APL classifies as net assets with donor restrictions (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not considered restricted into perpetuity is classified as net assets with donor restrictions until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Cleveland APL in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA. In accordance with UPMIFA, the Cleveland APL considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds: (1) the duration and preservation of the various funds, (2) the purposes of the donor-restricted endowment funds, (3) general economic conditions, (4) the possible effect of inflation and deflation, (5) the expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments, (6) other resources of the Cleveland APL, and (7) the Cleveland APL's investment policies.

Investment Return Objectives, Risk Parameters, and Strategies: The Cleveland APL has adopted investment and spending policies, approved by the Board of Directors, for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment funds while also maintaining the purchasing power of those endowment assets over the long-term. Accordingly, the investment process seeks to achieve an after-cost total real rate of return, including investment income as well as capital appreciation, which exceeds the annual distribution with acceptable levels of risk. Endowment assets are invested in a well-diversified asset mix, which includes equity securities and fixed income funds, that is intended to provide for the growth of the underlying assets and to protect the long-term purchasing power of the assets. The investment return objectives are to be measured over three to five year market cycles. Investment risk is measured in terms of the total endowment fund; investment assets and allocation between asset classes and strategies are managed to not expose the fund to unacceptable levels of risk.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

10. ENDOWMENT FUNDS (Continued)

Spending Policy: The Cleveland APL has a spending policy to ensure that sufficient investment return will be retained in the endowment to preserve and grow its economic value as a first priority, and to provide funds for the annual operating budget in an amount that is not subject to large fluctuations from year to year to the extent possible. The current spending policy makes available on an annual basis up to 5% of the 12-quarter rolling average market value of the endowment investment portfolio. The endowment will be subject to donor restrictions, first, then subject to a targeted annual spending rate that should not be lower than 3% or higher than 5% unless specifically approved by the Board. Such planned appropriations should be approved by the Board in conjunction with the approval of the annual budget. Any unexpended funds from the appropriated amount in a given year will be considered designated by the Board and will remain subject to the spending policy.

Underwater endowment policy: From time to time, certain donor-restricted endowment funds may have fair values less than the amount required to be maintained by donors or by law (underwater endowments). The Cleveland APL has interpreted UPMIFA to permit spending from underwater endowments in accordance with prudent measures required by law. Underwater endowments, if any, will be reflected in net assets with donor restrictions. There were no underwater endowments at December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Endowment net asset composition by type of fund as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 is as follows:

December 31, 2024	Without Donor Restrictions	With Donor Restrictions	Total

The amount appropriated for expenditures had not been transferred out of the investment account by the respective year-ends.

11. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

The Cleveland APL estimates the fair value of financial instruments using available market information and other generally accepted valuation methodologies. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or would be paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The inputs used to measure fair value are classified into three levels:

- Level 1 – unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities that the Cleveland APL has the ability to access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 – quoted prices which are not active, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable (either directly or indirectly) for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

11. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT (Continued)

- Level 3 – Significant unobservable prices or inputs (including the Cleveland APL’s own assumptions in determining the fair value of assets or liabilities) where there is little or no market activity for the asset or liability at the measurement date.

A financial instrument’s categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The carrying values of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable and accounts payable are reasonable estimates of fair value due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments.

Investments and funds held in trust by others are stated at fair value as determined using inputs comprised of the following at December 31, 2024 and 2023:

11. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT (Continued)

Equities – Equities consist of marketable equity securities of domestic and international corporations in a variety of industries that are valued based on quoted prices in active markets.

Fixed income – Fixed income funds consist of investments in mutual funds and exchange-traded products that are based on quoted prices in active markets.

Mutual funds – Valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held by the Cleveland APL are open-ended mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily net asset value (NAV) and to transact at that price. The mutual funds held are deemed to be actively traded.

Cash and cash equivalents – Cash and cash equivalents consist of investments in money market accounts that are based on quoted prices in active markets.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Cleveland APL believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different estimate of fair value at the reporting date.

12. EMPLOYEE RETENTION TAX CREDIT

In December 2020, H.R. 133, Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 was passed. This act extended and modified certain provisions of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act, making the Cleveland APL eligible for a refundable employee retention credit subject to meeting certain criteria. The Cleveland APL filed Form 941-X Adjusted Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return or Claim for Refund for the quarters ended March 31, 2021, June 30, 2021, and September 30, 2021 and requested refunds. During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Cleveland APL reported income of $1,081,539 and received $821,667 during the year. The remaining $259,872 is reported on the statements of financial position as an employee retention tax credit receivables as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

13. PENDING LITIGATION

During the normal course of operations, the Cleveland APL may be named in claims or legal actions. The Cleveland APL follows guidance, as required by the Contingencies Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, in determining when such a contingency requires recognition or disclosure. The Cleveland APL's management and legal counsel assess such contingent liabilities and have determined that no such claims or legal action fit the criteria for recognition or disclosure for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.
